Human Resources Director, S & S Worldwide

The race for talent will never be over. As our economy improves and our work force and technology changes, there is a direct impact on our labor pool. For affirmative action employers, there is also a need to be able to reach more Veterans and workers with different abilities.

Become a Human Resources Super Hero by not only meeting your talent demands but far exceeding your employer's expectations. This program will focus on how to get more Veterans & Diversity into your applicant pipeline by partnering with local agencies and community groups.

It is also the RIGHT thing to do and produce a win-win for both the employer and the newly hired individual.

Every business should have a goal to have the "right people in the right place at the right time."

This event will offer Business Owners, HR Professionals and Managers the ability to interact with a variety of state and local community groups who support Veterans and Diversely Abled job candidates in gaining full or part time employment.

Participants will have the opportunity to get a quick overview of all the Companies and agencies represented and how they can partner with them for extraordinary results to gain additional credibility with the Leaders of their Companies. This is not a recruitment event but an opportunity to network with all of these resources at one meeting for future recruitment and business services collaboration.

Sandy Spencer, SPHR and SHRM-CP will be the facilitator for this event and can share first-hand how S&S Worldwide, Inc. is able to not only meet their staffing needs but also be able to hire over 100 temporary individuals each year as the business expands each season. S&S was recognized in 2013 by Easter Seals as the Eastern CT Employer of the Year and also by the Hartford Business Journal as a Family Business of the Year.
